QUIET—EXAMS!

Foreword

Profiles of today, of a varied student life, are reflected in this 1964 Catamount, and it is hoped that tomorrow these profiles will have developed sound maturity, worthy leadership, envied courage, and that you will remember Potomac State College that, in part, shaped your destiny.

DEAN KIRKLAND SHEPHERD McKEE

To a never-to-be forgotten leader and friend, the administration, faculty, and students of Potomac State college proudly dedicate this 1964 Catamount.

He was a dedicated teacher motivated by the highest ideals.

A true friend and a wise counselor of youth.

A conscientious, able, and very cooperative administrator.

A proud citizen willingly accepting more than his share of responsibility for the welfare of his church, his community, and his country.

A devoted husband.

A Christian gentleman always serving beyond the call of duty.

ADMINISTRATION FACULTY

DR. ERNEST E. CHURCH

President

Potomac State College has not been concerned, throughout its sixty-three year history, in "empire" building. Its future will not be characterized by such ambitions.

The goal of the college has always been the maximum development of its students—to promote intellectual, physical, social and spiritual growth. We strive to take the "siblings" sent to us by fathers and mothers and release them into the maelstrom of life equipped to play well their part as mature and responsible citizens.

We advance toward this goal only as our total facilities—physical equipment, dedicated faculty, ambitious and high minded students, organizations and activities—are made responsive to the challenge of these exciting times.

"Act well your part There all the honor lies."

While there are various criteria for judging the quality of an educational institution, for most persons a college is evaluated on the basis of the performance and qualities of its students and graduates.

During your time at Potomac State, you have been the beneficiaries of the hard work and sympathetic interest of the faculty. It is time now to test the merit of these efforts. Your accomplishments in the years ahead in the professions, in business, as students, and as citizens will determine what view others will have of you and your college.

Those of us who remain here hope that your profiles of achievement will be worthy of your talents and the endeavors of all who comprise the college staff.

MR. TODD H. BULLARD

Dean

MR. DAVID G. NUZUM Director of

Student Affairs

Profiles, silhouettes, and shadows are words rich in connotation. The child is intrigued that he cannot jump over his shadow. The youth is amused with the nuance implicit in the witticism, "A man has a profile; a woman has a silhouette." The scholar probes for exactitude among synonyms, noting that words employ two dimentions of height and width, and leaving to imagination the limitless potential of depth.

Profile suggests that some areas are unseen or unknown or undeveloped. The unidentified attributes of the team suggest integrity, a quality that is not expensive; it is priceless.

Academic acumen must walk with probity of character in those who accept the noble ideal of American forebears who pledged "our sacred honor". Profiles of Potomac State's sons and daughters will be developed into sculptures-in-relief through dedication:

the student to the quest for truth, the professor to maximum student development and the administrator to purity of purpose.

The pursuit of an education is a challenge to everyone offered the opportunity to develop his mind, his body, and his spirit to the fullest of his capacity. The experience of a college education presents an occasion to improve in every phase of learning.

It is important that youth realize the values created for them as members of society and as individuals which a college education offers today and for the future in this world of rapid change.

The desirable result derived from the experience is that one develops so that he can live a happy and useful life personally and in his service to society. He should expand his world of knowledge and understanding through an appreciation of the best which is offered in literature, in music, and in the arts.

Congratulations are presented to the Catamount staff who have given of their time and talents to record these interesting profiles of the educational opportunities offered at Potomac State College.

Registration

After gaining entrance to the auditorium to have pictures taken and to buy annuals and beanies, the plebes were guided to the gymnasium to wait in line for the paper work which would admit them to Potomac State and put them on the road to a broader and more liberal education.

Sophomores were involved in devising time-saving schemes to get through the line as quickly as possible while freshmen were seeking advice at every turn. Filling in what seemed like countless numbers of blank papers, the new arrivals at Potomac State finally emerged into the clear air. After fulfilling the requirement of the hectic day and being almost broke, some went to bed to recuperate, while those fortunate enough to have enough money went out to celebrate.

Freshman Week

Arriving at Keyser after the long pilgrimages to Potomac State College amid the beautiful West Virginia hills, bewildered and confused students began searching for their "happy pads" known as dormitories. After storing away the paraphernalia necessary for the next year at Potomac State, allowances collected, and final farewells bid, mistyeyes freshmen watched the family car speed away. Others showed little, if any, grief at all as they tried to conquer the campus in grand style, only to be confronted by authorities known as freshmen guides, who herded them off to one meeting after another.

Only after attending convocations, taking tests, walking around flower beds, meeting strange faces, learning school yells and cheers, and standing in one line after another could the bewildered freshmen proudly consider themselves a part of Potomac State College.

Rush

Beginning with the obtaining of rush dates, and culminating with the issuing of pledge pins, the ever-watchful eyes of Panhellenic were alerted to the slightest infraction of the many rules established to regulate this madness known as "Rush." After the acceptance parties were over, big smiles and firm handshakes, and the "Where' re you from?" "What's your major?" routine, brought sighs of relief from all the Greeks and shouts of joy from all the pledges, but moments of sadness to the rejected ones.

Reception

Dressed in our Sunday best ,we participated in the traditional faculty-student annual reception. We walked from campus building to building, our hands perspired, our memories failed us, but most of us thoroughly enjoyed the privilege of taking part in the first meaningful social event of the year. Upon completion of this, our Potomac State debut, we were somewhat more confident and reassured that we could properly display our social graces at the forthcoming formal functions.

Homecoming

We had parties, we had weekends, but one of the biggest holidays was Homecoming. Following in the tradition of the past, the festivities were officially opened by a spirited thuse and bonfire. Saturday morning the frosh busily decorated the campus and stadium for the visiting alumni and parents. Following a colorful parade, representing fun-packed hours of paper-stuffing and nail pounding, Catamount enthusiasts settled back and witnessed an exciting football game. At half-time the Queen, well-protected by ROTC men armed with sabers, was presented to the crowd.

An unfortunate second half of football followed this grand ceremony, and all were content to forget about the football game and direct their attention toward those familiar faces whose names they could not remember and to make the rounds of the teas and the ball that night.

The smell of pine was in the air; holly and mistletoe were hung everywhere. The spirits were high; the grades were low; but who cared? Following these celebrations on campus, the students began to pack their luggage and hum, "I'll be home for Christmas."

After a three-week vacation, at Christmas time, students were again reminded of their obligations on campus, and silently returned to break ground on their studies for that fatal week of finals.

Eventually, as final week examinations wormed their way upon campus, students began indulging in nicotine, caffeine and Benzedrine and other such stay-awake devices while they wiped away their tears and prayed for the coming of the last final.

Potomac State Catamounts Football 1964 Season

"What Decision Will Those Referees Make?"

Coach Dana G. Lough's Catamounts compiled a 1-7 record in the 1963 campaign as the Blue and Gold were victorious only over Ferrum College.

Potomac State opened their season by playing host to Bainbridge Naval Academy who downed the locals 6-0 in a contest played on Stayman Field in a steady drizzle.

The Loughmen were dealt their second set back of the season 26-20 at the hands of Chowan College of Murfreesboro, N. C. Bob Diaco, Dave Whitzell, Dave Lawson scored for State while Nick Lapcevic converted for two extra points.

The Cats hit the road for the first time to battle their arch rival Shepherd College where they went down in defeat 21-12 after a hard fought battle with the always powerful Rams.

Returning to Stayman Field, the Potomac State eleven moved into the winner's circle for the first and last time with a 20-0 decision over the Ferrum College Panthers of Roanoke, Va. This victory marked Coach Lough's 100th collegiate football win at Potomac State.

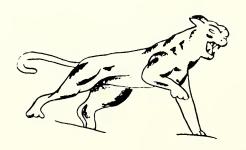

Unable to add another win, the Catamounts bowed 26-20 to Montgomery College in another close tilt at Takoma Park, Md. Like many of their frays this year, this battle could have gone either way.

Homecoming celebration was marred by a 58-13 shellacking at the hands of Wesley Wolverines of Dover, Del., marking the Loughmen's fifth loss of the season. This is one of the worst trompings that Catamount fans can recall for many years.

Facing another major rival, Frostburg College, of nearby Frostburg, Md., the Blue and Gold managed a 7-6 halftime lead, but were overcome 20-7 by the Bobcat's second-half scoring drive.

In the season's finale, the Cats dropped a heart-breaking squeaker 14-13 to the Baltimore Junior College Red Devils, another conference foe.

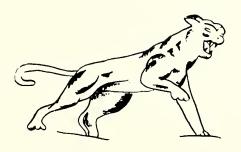

Garnering scoring honors for the Cats this year was end Bob Thorne with 24 points on four TD's, followed by quarterback Burt Holcomb and halfback Bob Diaco, each with 18 tallies.

Basketball Season

The Cats had four sophomore men returning to handle the ball for Coach Dana (Horse) Lough. Veteran hoopsters for the Gold and Blue were Don Harmon, Dave Lawson, Donnie Shields, and Courtland Smith.

Starting the '63 campaign with a bang, the Loughmen defeated Hagerstown Junior College 78-62 on the local hardwoods on November 30. With one game past the boards, the Cats were dealt their initial loss of the season 95-85 at the hands of Johnstown on the Pennsylvanians' court. The Cats sought revenge for this loss as they romped over Altoona 93-72 on December 6.

With a 2-1 record the Loughmen eked out a 68-64 win over the Frostburg Bobcats in a come-frombehind thriller before the local crowds. On December 13 the Potomac five traveled to Charles College where they decisioned the Marylanders 85-75. In the same road trip, the Cats extended their winning streak by downing Prince George 75-67.

Allegany Community College dealt the Blue and Gold their second defeat of the season in a 105-101 setback in overtime in Cumberland, Maryland. In the first game of the new year, the Cats handed the visiting Cagers of Johnstown an 86-64 loss on January 10 to avenge an earlier setback.

With a 6-2 record on the line, the locals journeyed to Shepherdstown on January 14 where they dropped a 98-86 decision to their arch rivals, the Rams. In the first game of a twin-bill at home on January 17, the locals delivered a 94-65 loss to Catonsville College. The following night at Cumberland, Maryland, in another double-header, the locals shot at a .469 clip to wallop the visiting Ann Arundel quint 102-61. Following a five-day break, the Catamounts played host to undefeated Allegany College and competely outplayed them for a 104-77 victory, and avenged the heartbreaker at the hands of the Torjans earlier in the season.

Opening a two-day stand in Pittsburgh, January 24, State suffered an 86-70 setback to Robert Morris College. State's second loss in as many days came at the hands of Point Park College, January 25, to the tune of 70-62.

The Catamounts netted disaster again, when Bainbridge Naval Academy handed the Loughmen a 65-

56 loss on January 30 for the locals' third straight setback on opponents courts. Snapping their losing streak, the local five gave Harford College of Bel Air, Maryland, a 100-74 dubbing with 12 PSC hoopsters hitting the scoring column. Remaining on the road, the Cats met Essex College on February 1, where they outclassed their rivals 93-47.

In their busiest week on the season's schedule, the Catamounts got off to a bad start receiving a 64-42 shellacking from the Shepherd College Rams. This marked the Cats' first loss on home courts in seven outings. Hosting undefeated Wesley College of Dover, Delaware, the following night, Potomac State lost its chance to tie the conference leaders when the Delawareans squeaked out a 93-89 decision in the nip and tuck match.

Traveling to Altoona, Pennsylvania, on February 7, the Potomac team dumped the Keystone cagers 77-60. This win brought the Cats' slate to 12-8. The locals suffered their ninth loss of the season February 8, on the local hardwoods as the Montgomery Black Knights bombed the Potomac quint 95-68 in State's only afternoon tilt on the schedule.

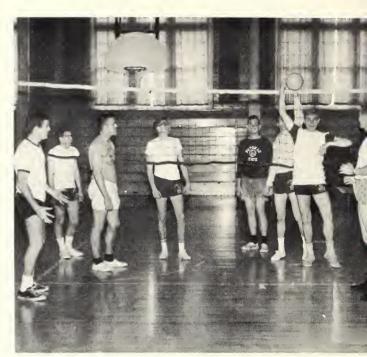

On February 11, the Cats tromped Shenandoah 112-88 on the home court in the only meeting between the two schools this year. In the same week, the Loughmen traveled to Frostburg, Maryland, to tangle with the Bobcats, and made a sweep of the two-game season series by clawing the Marylanders 96-89.

In the Cats final appearance before the local fans in '64, they dumped visiting Baltimore Junior College 101-87, marking the sixth time this season that the Loughmen went over the one hundred score. In the season's finale, the PSC cagers eked out an 83-82 decision over Hagerstown (Md.) College in the Hub City. This win put State's over-all log at 16-9 and their conference tally at 11-3.

The 1963-64 basketball campaign ended in an abrupt stop on February 21 when the Cats were halted in the first round of the Tri-State Junior College Tournament in Dover, Delaware, by Baltimore Junior College 79-60. The Red Devils thus avenged a week-old loss dealt them by the Cats, and shattered State's tournament hopes.

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council

The Student Council, governing order of the Student Body, supervises student activities, promotes school spirit, and develops a close relationship among the students and faculty.

A welcome committee greeted the student upon his arrival on campus and helped him to locate his quarters in the dormitory. Traditions were explained, and Freshmen Rules were inaugurated. In order to raise funds for athletic awards, the Council sponsored the Homecoming Dance and the May Day Ball. It prepared and sold printed programs for home football games and sponsored the sale of freshmen "beanies" to promote school spirit. The Council served as hosts when high school seniors came to campus on High School Visiting Days. The Council provided guides and escorts on Parents Day in the fall.

Students look to the governing body to serve as a liaison between them and the faculty. Suggestions for making campus life more attractive originate with the Council and are taken to the college administration for final approval.

Catamount-Our College Yearbook

The staff of the 1964 Catamount has strived to put together an annual which will serve as a display window for the college, a reservoir of memories for the students and a historical account for future posterity.

The planning of the book is begun one year in advance with the selection of the staff. Culiminating with the final editing and proofreading and distributing of the books, the cycle is ready for repetition for another year.

Among the pages of the 1964 Catamount are features depicting campus life. In this yearbook are photographs of two years of striving and achievem-ment. We hope that events recalled and held dear will be of significance to all students.

The 1964 Catamount represents many laborious sessions resulting in a single opportunity for success or failure. The staff must be prepared to meet the judgments of the readers once the books is distributed in May.

This year's Catamount is presented to the Student Body with the hope that it has successfully summarized a various crossection of campus functions, each representative of the emphasis and influence of our Alma Mater.

EDITOR PLANNING THE PASQUINO

The Pasquino, the college newspaper, is a fortnightly publication which keeps students, faculty, parents, alumni, and others informed about campus activities. All journalism majors are automatically on the staff, but many positions are filled by volunteers from a cross section of the campus who contribute their efforts to the news, advertising, and circulation staffs. It takes a press run of about 2,000 copies to meet the Pasquino's circulation demands.

The newspaper staff has as a special project, the distribution of an annual Student-Faculty Directory. All staff workers are eligible to attend the spring Press Banquet, when a speaker prominent in the communications media is invited to address the group.

Circle K

The Circle K Club of Potomac State College is a service organization dedicated to this institution and to the community of Keyser. The local Circle K Club was established in 1952 and holds Charter Six in Circle K International. The Potomac State Circle K Club is composed of college men of high character and good scholastic standing, who feel that to serve is an honor instead of a burden. The objective of Circle K International is to improve relations with the college, community, country, and God.

Major projects this year were: operating the second-hand bookstore, sponsoring the annual Homecoming Parade, continuing a campus litter project, assisting with Parents' Day, aiding in the annual Blood Mobile program of the city of Keyser, sponsoring a flying visit of the Red Cross Blood Mobile to the campus, continuing a recognition plaque for scholastic leaders in the school, sponsored an Indian child under the direction of the Save The Children Federation, and serving as guides for various campus activities.

Engineers Club

The Engineers Club is a campus organization composed of freshman and sophomore engineering majors at Potomac State College. It has been in existence since 1932 and provides for the student engineer a professional atmosphere to go along with his academic life on the campus. Visiting professional engineers speak to the members, industrial films are shown at the meetings, and trips are taken to industrial plants in the area. The organization's main purpose is to lend a professional atmosphere needed by student engineers as a stepping stone for association with local, state, and national professional engineering societies when the student graduates in some field of engineering.

To place greater emphasis on religion, the Newman Club has been established at Potomac State College.

The Newman Club is a national Catholic organization. Its purposes are to foster the spiritual, intellectual, and social interests of Catholic students. At one of the two monthly meetings, talks on religious or social subjects are given by visiting speakers. Mr. J. Kenna Burke is the faculty advisor of the club. The club meets the first and third Mondays of each month at 7:30 in the Science Hall.

The Newman Club, in co-operation with the C.Y.F., sponsors Spiritual Emphasis Week during the month of February.

This year the guest speaker who represented the Catholic faith was Father Richard J. Burke.

The Women's

Reynolds Hall

The Women's Residence Association, established on December 7, 1944, is comprised of the women living in Reynolds and Friend Halls. The function of the association is that of co-ordinating the living standards in both dormitories through acting as a governing body functioning with the respective hall councils. To promote good relations and friend-liness and assist in the social life of the residence halls is another responsibility of the association. Among its activities, the association was represented in the annual Homecoming Parade, sponsored an annual Christmas Party, and is helping to emphasize the importance of cultural aspects of college life. One of its objectives is that of presenting some reproductions of masterpieces to the women's dormitories.

The aims of this organization are to develop standards of leadership and sportsmanship and to promote those activities which may be adapted to the leisure time of later school. Intramural games are bowling, volleyball, basketball, ping-pong, badminton, and shuffleboard.

The club is open to all girls enrolled in Potomac State College. A total of 250 points entitles a member to an emblem. These points are acquired by participation in tournaments, attending meetings, and in other ways.

Potomac State Players

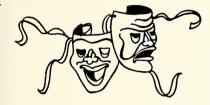

Players, organized in 1919 on the Potomac State College campus, holds the distinction of being the oldest organization at Potomac State. Members, who need no previous experience in dramatics, may mork in any phase of the theater, from acting to set construction, lighting techniques and the art of stage make-up.

This year two one-act plays were produced in the early weeks of the second semester. A larger production was given later in the spring.

Membership in Delta Psi Omega, national dramatic honorary society, is awarded each year to members of Players who have done outstanding work, and have made valuable contributions to the organization. Election to the society is not automatic, however, upon the accumulation of the one hundred points necessary for consideration; candidates must meet local and national requirements for election, as Delta Psi Omega is a fraternity which gives recognition only to members of dramatic organizations who excel in the theater.

Potomac State Singers

One of the oldest, most active, and most popular college organizations is the Potomac State Singers. This group was organized in 1926 to give students in singing an opportunity to enjoy group participation in the art. Since its beginning, the Singers' group has grown quite large, and now consists of fifty members.

The Singers organization is composed of a women's chorus, a men's chorus, and mixed chorus. They take part in the Religious Emphasis Week programs, and have a large part in the Annual Spring Music Festival sponsored by the Keyser Kiwanis Club. The highlight of the winter season was the presentation of a Christmas cantata which was sung before the Keyser Rotary Club and the college as the Christmas Convocation. One of the more enjoyable activities was the visit to high schools in West Virginia and Maryland this spring. To climax their year's activities, the Singers provided music for the college commencement exercises.

Roth Military Honorary Society

ROTH Military Honorary Society was formed in 1953 to represent the Reserve Officers Training Corp unit at Potomac State College. Colonel Samuel Roth, then Professor of Military Science and Tactics at West Virginia University, was responsible for the ROTC unit at Potomac State.

The Society's chief objective is to honor outstanding ROTC students who have demonstrated qualities of leadership and have achieved a high military and academic standing. To be invited into ROTH, a student must attain a military science grade of

"B" or better and an overall academic grade of "C" or above. The ROTH colors, red and white, are displayed in the ribbon and fourragere worn by all members in addition to the ROTC uniform.

Eta Upsilon Samma

"I Feel Pretty, Oh So Pretty"

Eta Upsilon Gamma was founded at Christian College in Columbia, Missouri, in 1901. It is the oldest national junior college sorority in the National College Panhellenic. The aims of Eta Upsilon Gamma are to promote scholarship achievement, stimulate school spirit, and to broaden and enrich friendship.

The sorority started off the year with a successful rush party held in the lounge of Davis Hall. The theme for the party was "West Side Story," which the girls adapted to fit the group. In November the Gammas jointly sponsored the annual Harvest Swing with Theta Sigma Chi Fraternity. The sorority sponsored an informal dance in February.

Honors bestowed on Gamma members during the year are: Kathryn Carvey was selected to reign as Miss Eastern West Virginia and was chosen as fourth runnerup to Miss West Virginia; Carol McVicker was elected by the student body to reign as Miss Catamount XXV; Mary Miller was the first recipient of the Kirkland S. McKee Memorial Scholarship; Dinah Wells was elected president of Sigma Phi Omega Society and selected as Potomac State's representative to the Apple Blossom Festival; Elizabeth Kapp was chosen to reign over the Harvest Swing; Marie Miller and Penny Conley were chosen finalists for Military Ball Queen; Mary Miller and Dinah Wells served as editor and sports editor, respectively, of the Pasquino; Kathryn Carvey, Carol Miers, Joyce Fike, and Penny Conley were cheerleaders; Marie Miller, Mary Miller, Elizabeth Kapp, and Dinah Wells were selected as ROTC sponsors; Mary Miller was our candidate for May Day Queen.

Theta-Gamma entry in Homecoming parade

Theta Sigma Chi

Theta Sigma Chi participates in many college events: conducting the election of Miss Catamount during the Homecoming weekend; presenting a float in the annual Homecoming Parade and the annual Harvest Swing—both in conjunction with their sister sorority, Eta Upsilon Gamma.

The organization proudly points to the accomplishments of their men. Glenn Harman was elected the District Treasurer of Circle K, Circle K "Man of the Month" (Nov.), Business Editor of the Catamount, and a member of the Dean's List; John Harmon was president of Circle K, secretary of Roth Military Honorary Society, and placed on the President's List; William Chidester was editor of the Catamount; Thomas Hood was president of the Panhellenic Council and the college bowling league and Information Officer of Roth Military Honorary Society; David Van Zant reigned as king of the Harvest Swing; and Rodger Kenworthy was Vice President of the freshman class.

Other activities of the fraternity included several informal parties, a rush party for the pledges and the annual picnic in the spring.

Kappa Delta Psi

Who Said We Were Framed?

Kappa Delta Psi was founded on the campus of Potomac State College on April 26, 1951. The objectives of the sorority are to further scholarship, to stimulate school spirit, to promote high moral standards, to develop a close feeling of friendship among its members and loyalty to Potomac State College.

The sorority began its 1963-64 activities with a rush party in the assembly room of the Science Hall. Afterwards there was a joint party with their brother fraternity in the armory. A meal ticket was given to a student at Keyser Elementary School at Thanksgiving this year. A Christmas party was given in the Home Economics Department, with the patronesses as special guests. The second semester brought new pledge; the highly successful Easter Ball; and, to finish the year, the freshman girls had a banquet for the departing sophomore "big sisters." A highlight of the Spring Banquet was again the presentation of a check to the Alumni Foundation Scholarship Fund.

Honors bestowed upon Kappa Delta Psi members during the year include: Sandra Brown, runner-up for Miss Catamount; Barbara Malone, President of Friend Hall Dormitory, member of Pan hellenic, Student Council, and Home Economics Club. Barbara Malone and Mildred Streets were recipients of scholarships.

Phi Kappa Omega

The fraternity, in a show of its high scholastics, won the late Dean McKee's plaque for the fraternity with the highest scholastic average on campus for the 1962-63 school year.

The brothers of Phi Kappa Omega are proud of their 1963-64 achievements. Brothers C. J. Fetchero served as president of the sophomore class and Bob Lawson as class treasurer and vice president of the Agriculture Club. Brother Richard Pirozzi served as president of the Newman Club, Francis Coda as vice preisdent, Brother Joe Strange as the Newman Club representative to all Newman Club conventions, plus being on the college's Social Committee, the college's delegate to the West Virginia Association of Collegiate Student Governments, and as the president of Panhellenic. Brother David Page was the representative to the Student Council from the Engineers Club and the fraternity's candidate for May King, while Brother Tom Martin was on the Circle K Board of Directors.

In cooperation with the sister sorority, Kappa Delta Psi, we held the annual Easter Ball, an annual social high point on campus. The year was climaxed with a banquet and picnic. The bonds which were established with the other brothers will long be remembered by all of us.

Sigma Tota Chi

Sigma Iota Chi, largest National Junior College Sorority in the United States, was founded by Captain Greer A. Duncan in 1903. Epsilon Chapter was established at Potomac State in 1923.

The purpose of this sorority is to perfect and carry out, in one's every-day life, the meaning of sisterhood, to be forgetful of self and mindful of others, and to reach the highest standards possible, mentally, morally, and physically.

Epsilon Chapter's annual rush party was held to the Upper Potomac Country Club, Burlington. Following the distribution of bids, Sigma received 24 pledges. Carrying out the sorority's local project, the members contributed a basket of food to a needy family at Christmas and made a donation to an orphanage in Virginia.

Miss Nancy Manning was the Sigma candidate for Homecoming Queen. Reigining over the Christmas Ball, sponsored jointly with Phi Sigma Nu fraternity, was Queen Molly Handlan. In February, Sigma, again with the cooperation of the Phi Sigs, sponsored the Sweetheart Ball, first formal activity to be held in the newly renovated Student Union.

Phi Sigma Nu

Phi Sigma Nu, founded in 1922, has been an outstanding social fraternity on the campus of Potomac State College. The fraternity was granted a charter by the National College Panhellenic and is designated Beta Chapter.

Phi Sigma Nu began the year with a successful and enteraining pledge party during the fall "Rush Week" which ultimately brought to the fraternity some forty pledges. In the fall activities on the campus of the college, Phi Sigma Nu tied for first place in the float building competition of the Homecoming weekend.

The annual and traditional Christmas Ball sponsored by the fraternity and the sister sorority was as usual a distinguished social event on the campus, with Brother Jim Evans reigning as "King of Winter" with Molly Handlan, elected by the brothers from their sister sorority, as his "Queen." In February, the brothers elected Sister Pat Harness to be their "Queen" at the Sweetheart Ball. It was an honor for the fraternity and the sorority to have their Sweetheart Ball in the newly constructed Student Union of Potomac State College.

Phi Sigma Nu held a number of very informal parties during the year, entertaining the pledges, members of the Sigma Iota Chi Sorority and others. The fraternity also was well represented in all campus activities and developed a series of programs for the benefit of the members.

At the end of the year a fraternity picnic was held, and the annual banquet honoring the sophomore members of the fraternity which closed out the year's activities.

For more than forty years, Sigma Phi Omega has held an honored place at Potomac State College. Organized to foster scholarship and campus citizenship, it ever strives to uphold the ideals of its founders. It is still a local fraternity with its own constitution, ritual, insignia, and traditions.

Certain functions of the academic year are associated with Sigma Phi Omega. As the society draws its membership from all campus groups, it is proper that it should sponsor the two convocations honoring Potomac State's organizations. This year at the KNOW YOUR ORGANIZATIONS Convocation held shortly after the beginning of the college year, Sigma Phi Omega again directed the presentation of the campus organizations and their leaders to the freshmen and described the history and objectives of each group. In the spring it will sponsor the annual RECOGNITION DAY Convocation, on which occasion honor is bestowed upon leadership and achievement in every field of college life. The formal initiation of new members and the banquet honoring them and their parents have an important place on the school calendar.

Members of Sigma Phi Omega feel that it is not only an honor to be elected to this society, but that it is also a responsibility. They aim to uphold the standards of scholarship, to participate in student activities, and to co-operate with the college at all times.

It takes

FINE PAPER

The Virginia pine shown above is one that has qualified as a superior seed tree after meeting certain tests in the field and in the laboratory. This is one of the first steps in obtaining certified seed for growing trees which will give quality in the same light as certified grain seeds. On the Luke Timberlands in West Virginia, extensive research is being done in Forest Management to help West Virginia land owners and timber operators to produce more and better timber from their land.
